Where There's a Will, There's a Way.

BY JOHN G. SAGE.

It was a noble Roman,
In Rome's Imperial day,
Who heard a coward crouker,
Before the battle, say:
"They're safe in such a fortress;
There is no way to shake it."
"Can't you?" exclaimed the hero,
"I'll find a way, or make it."

Is fame your aspiration?
Your path is steep and high;
In vain he seeks the temple,
Content to gaze and sigh!
The shining throne is waiting,
But he alone can take it,
Who says with Roman firmness,
"I'll find a way, or make it!"

Is learning your ambition?
There is no royal road;
Alike the peer, the peasant,
Must climb to her abode:
Who feel the thirst for knowledge,
In Helicon may stake it,
If he has still the Roman will
To "find a way, or make it!"

Are riches worth the getting?
They must be bravely sought;
With wishing and with fretting,
The boon cannot be bought;
To all the prizes open,
But only he can take it,
Who says with Roman courage,
"I'll find a way, or make it!"

In Love's impassioned warfare,
The tale has ever been,
That victory crowns the valiant,
The brave are they who win;
Though strong in Beauty's castle,
A lover still may take it,
Who says, with Roman daring,
"I'll find a way, or make it!"

LEGISLATION FOR CALIFORNIA.—The success of the California delegation in getting all their important measures through the last session of Congress, leaves but little of a local character for them to attend to this winter. A few more railroad bills, however, are pressed upon their attention, and they will labor hard to secure their passage. Minister, of Benicia is here urging the usual grants of land in aid of the proposed railroad from Benicia to Sacramento [and Marysville]. Highly and McElrath will be early and late working for the grants of land, conceded by the Senate last session, to aid the California Railroad, and the proposed railroad from Petaluma through Russian river valley to Humboldt. Probably an effort will also be made to secure a grant for the proposed extension of the San Jose Railroad southward to Watsonville. Bidwell has a bill ready asking land grants in aid of a canal through Colusa, Yolo and Solano counties, which is greatly needed to drain a large portion of the wet lands in that portion of the State, and which would also confer vast additional benefits on the country traversed, by furnishing water for irrigation and supplying a channel of communication. Bidwell will also ask a grant of three sections per mile of mountain land to aid in constructing a wagon road from Oroville up the Middle Fork of Feather river to the eastern boundary of the State, the route being all the way below the snow line. He will again press the bill introduced by him at the last session, providing for the maintenance of the Indians in Northern California by concentrating them all on the Round Valley Reservation, which he proposes to have enlarged by taking in adjacent mountainous regions—this expense to be paid mainly from the proceeds of the sale of other Reservations. The success of this measure depends in a great degree on a report to be made by R. J. Stevens, who was sent last summer by the Secretary of the Interior to the Pacific Coast to investigate Indian affairs, but who, it is feared, neglected the poor Indian from having exhausted him self in his efforts to get a white man out of the position of Superintendent of the Branch Mint at San Francisco.—[Wash. SPECIAL CONGRESSIONAL ELECTION.—The following telegraphic correspondence has taken place on this subject, says the Appeal, and we have been permitted by Gov. Low to make it known to the people of the State: WASHINGTON, (D. C.) Dec. 7th, 1866.

F. F. Low, Governor: Does California desire Congress to provide for the election of Representatives? If so, what day should be appointed?

Yankee Thanksgiving.

Well, gals and fellows, how are you all? I've had a rip glorious old time; been up to Yankee land to spend Thanksgiving; up where everything is so nice, where the penalty for raising bed bugs is thirty days in jail for each bug. Lord, what fun I've had. I kissed all the Faiths, Hopes, Charities, Patiences and Prudences I met, not even skipping the Pollys; some of them Yankee lasses are darned pretty too. They are the original Jacobs, and one can't kiss one of them without tasting the Declaration of Independence, and they smell of Fourth of July all over, for hardly one of them but had a grand father who fought, bled and died at Bunker Hill; when they laugh, they laugh, and when they kiss, they kiss! Taint a bit like pressing a bale of cotton, to long one of them gals; they are the real article, not stuff. Why, when one of them gets a York fellow, she'll put both arms around his waist and squeeze him until he ain't bigger round than a night key, and kiss him till he is buried in a shower of hair pins. I've been through one of these pressing operations many times, when all I could hear would be at intervals, dear Jack, and when her lips unglued, they would make a report like a Parrot gun, and I'd have to unbuckle my suspenders to keep from fainting.

Then what a nice dinner we had. There was a roast pig with a lemon in his mouth, and great grandfather's marriage certificate hanging on his tail; a turkey as big as a lager beer keg, with a rosette on his Pope's nose; a goose, full of oil as a whale, all covered over with green sawdust; a chicken pie so big you could have straddled one of the legs and trilled for tit-bits all day without touching the sides, with gravy enough to drown a cow; then there was lots of squash shaped like Temples of Liberty, turnips like George Washington crossing the Delaware, mashed potatoes formed to resemble the landing of the Pilgrims, and then we had pies made of everything from hemlock bark to crab apples, with little dough birds of Paradise sitting around the edges. The puddings had little sugar rabbits in the centre; in fact everything was in shape. Instead of poison liquors, we had some genuine apple juice drawn from a barrel that had been singing an frothing at the mouth for six weeks to be opened, and when the plug was pulled, a stream of pure sweet cider shot out that would have flooded a skating pond in fifteen minutes. Well, Uncle Josh asked a blessing, not forgetting to thank Christopher Columbus for discovering America. Then we pitched in. I ate so much I've felt like a walking hen-coop ever since. Some of the chickens put on airs and refused to mix with the goose (they were not birds of a feather), and the turnip and squash refused to fraternize, and for twenty-four hours I thought I'd bile over—but I'm better now.

After we had eaten ten or eleven hours, we adjourned to the "keeping" room, and we had the gayest old "leap frog" you ever saw. I tried to leap over Betsy, but she was too big, and I came straddling over her neck and knocked her waterfoll to glory. The cider got into the gals' heads, and the way they showed their white stockings and garters (I mean elastic) was a caution to spirited young men. One gal had on blue stockings. We ruled her out, and she went one mile and a quarter to change them—she couldn't play any more till she did so. By and by the old folks cladded to bed, and we paired off and commenced to turtle dove. I got Jerusha Ann up in one corner; she got her claps around my waist, and squeezed me till I hollered fire. I got a taste of her lips that made me feel so tender towards her, that if she hadn't reminded me of it, I should have forgotten all about the important fact that I was married.

Pretty soon old blind Jim came in with his fiddle, and he hoisted him on the top of a rose-wood flour barrel; and he sawed away on the catgut, and we danced till it was time for the gals to go home and milk the cows. I saw Jerusha home, but as it was daylight, gal like she got on a bit of modesty, and I had to put off the parting kiss till next year. I bid her good bye as she was tying the strings of her checked apron, and left for New York with my great-coat pockets filled with hickory nuts and apples, and had freighted a little lower, I would have brought along a pumpkin for you. Take it all in all, I think Thanksgiving is rather a first day.

SCOLDING WIVES.—On a certain occasion a fervent father, who was preaching to a refined audience, made use of the following very familiar simile: "An evil conscience is like a scolding wife." But he did not stop there; he continued to draw out every possible thread of his illustration to its full length. "A scolding wife, my brethren, will not let you rest at home or abroad, at dinner or at supper, in bed or even out of bed. Her litigious temper and loud tongue, (which is worse than thunder to the wine cask,) take all the juices and savoriness out of the ragouts you eat; all the sugar and sweetness out of the coffee you drink. Whether you go forth on foot, or on horseback, or in a coach drawn by four galloping horses, is all one; she is always at your skirts, following you whithersoever you go."

TREATMENT OF CROUP.

Croup is an inflammation of the inner surface of the wind-pipe. Inflammation implies heat, and that heat must be subdued, or the patient will inevitably die. If prompt efforts are made to cool the parts in case of an attack of croup, relief will be as prompt as it is surprising and delightful. All know that cold applied to a hot skin cools it, but all do not as well know and understand that hot water applied to an inflamed skin will as certainly cool it off. Hence the application of ice cold water with linen cloths, or of almost boiling water with flannel, are very efficient in the cure of the croup. Take two or three pieces of woolen flannel of two folds, large enough to cover the whole throat and upper part of the chest. Put this in a pan of water as hot as the hands can bear, and keep it thus hot by adding water from a boiling teakettle at hand; let two or three of the flannels be in this hot water all the time and one on the throat, with a dry flannel covering the wet one, so as to keep the heat in to some extent. The flannels should not be so wet when put on as to dribble the water, for it is important to keep the clothing as dry as possible; keep up the process until the doctor comes, or until the phlegm is loose, the child is easier, and begins to be drowsy. Then gently wrap a dry flannel over the wet one which is on, so as to cover it up entirely, and the patient is saved.

A SKILLFUL DETECTIVE.—It is announced that the Government will send Mr. Allan Pinkerton of Chicago, to Utah, to discover and arrest the murderers of Dr. Robinson. Mr. Pinkerton is a native of Scotland, emigrated to Illinois in 1846, and at first followed the business of a cooper. By accident his talents for the detection of crime were discovered, and he was employed by the Government as a secret mail agent. In this employment he established his reputation by the great "MacDonald case" in Illinois, and the "Pittsburg and Fort Wayne case" in Indiana. As a single evidence of Mr. Pinkerton's remarkable success and skill, it may be mentioned that during the last ten years he has recovered for the Adams express company upwards of one million, two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. During the war he rendered many important services to the country, having charge of the "secret service." It may interest some of the secessionists of Baltimore to know that the "contraband" mail between that city and Richmond, by the way of Washington, was regularly carried by one of his detectives.

LO! THE POOR INDIAN.—A romantic young lady, whose mind was deeply imbued with reading "The Sorrows of Werter," and other novels of the extremely sentimental school, approached a stalwart savage, whose sombre visage indicated suffering of some kind, and addressed him thus:

"Why droops the eagle of the forest chief? Is he brooding over the wrongs of his race? Does the memory of the red warrior revert to the past, when his proud ancestors roamed through the mighty forests, and enjoyed the princely glories of Nature, now so sadly marred by the axe and plow of the unsympathizing rustic?"

The answer of the forest chief with drooping eagle-eye was a little shocking to her refined sensibility:

"No! White man give Injun too much whiskey. Injun big drunk last night; Injun sick; bye-bye Injun puke; Injun well again—ugh!"

A STRETCHY YARN.—We were running down from Barbadoes, and the lady passengers were admiring the beautiful flying fish, when one turned to Jack Lacy, who had the wheel, and enquired:

"Jack, do these beautiful fish ever grow any larger?"

"Why, yes, marm. Down there at the Cape Verds they grow as long as that mainmast!"

"Indeed! And do they fly like these?"

"Not 'zactly, marm. They flies longer and higher. Some of 'em fly just like eagles, all day, and more'n two miles high. One day Bill Faucett was sleeping up in the foretop, with his dinner port wide open, and one of them Cape Verds flew right slap down his throat."

"Why, Jack, that was singular! A fish as long as that mainmast flying down a man's throat?"

"Beg parlon, marm, can't talk much at the wheel. I spect Bill must ha' stretched like blazes, or else my yarn has."

NATURAL FEELING.—Sourkrout, the old bachelor, was admiring a young lady dressed in the highest style of the fashion, when we ventured to remark:

"That's a fine looking lady; but the change in the weather this evening seems to affect her—she seems to feel cold."

"Happy to hear it," said he snappishly, "I am glad to hear that she has one natural feeling left."

A CHILD'S IDEA OF DEITY.—Little Harry, some three or four years old, who had been taught to pray, one day said to his mother: "Mother, I wish there was a real God." "Why, Harry! what do you mean?" exclaimed the mother. Harry replied: "I prayed to God for snow, and it didn't come; and I prayed for griddle cakes in the morning, and I can't get them. I want a real God."

CORRESPONDENCE.

Our friends everywhere, who may at any time have knowledge of facts of local importance—incidents, accidents, mining news, doings of public meetings, improvements, curiosities, etc.—would confer a favor upon us and our readers generally by sending notice of the same to this office. Give us facts in any shape, and we will take care of them.

AN INQUISITIVE SCOTCHMAN.—It is a common accusation against the Americans that they are the most inquisitive people in the world. The charge has some weight, but is entirely too broad. We have an instance in an incident not new, but none the worse for that, which occurred in Scotland.

Two gentlemen fell in together, both travelers on horseback, and strangers to each other, when the following conversation took place:

"Raw evening, sir, rather," observed the one with an Aberdeen accent.

"Yes, rather," replied the other.

"You will likely be a stranger in these parts?" continued the Aberdeen.

"If I can," laconically replied the other, looking in the meantime neither to the right nor the left.

"Perhaps like myself, you may be on your way to Banff?"

"Perhaps," responded the other, yawning.

"In that case, perhaps you will put up at Cullen?"

"I may or may not," answered his companion.

"May I ask if you are a bachelor?"

"No."

"Oh! married?"

"No, no?"

"Sir, I beg your pardon. I may have unintentionally touched upon a painful subject; your black dress ought to have checked my inquiries. I beg your pardon, sir—a widower?"

"No, no, no?"

"Neither a bachelor, a married man, nor a widower! In heaven's name, then, sir, what can you be?"

"A divorced man, and be hanged to you, since you must know!" exclaimed the stranger, clapping spurs to his horse, and dashing out of sight.

WESTERN SIMPLICITY.—Not greenness, but genuine candor and character, are to be seen in the following incident, furnished sometime since by a Western writer:

In a wild Western neighborhood, where the sound of the church going bell had never been heard, notice was given that the Rev. Mr. A., a distinguished Presbyterian divine, would preach on a certain day.

After the service had begun, a raw-boned hunter, with rifle in hand and all the accoutrements of the chase about him, entered and took the only vacant seat—a nail keg without either head. The current of the preacher's thoughts led him into a description of heaven and its inhabitants. With great power he had drawn a picture of the habitation of the blessed, and was assigning each of the patriarchs, prophets and apostles his appropriate place. His Calvinistic tendencies led him to reserve the Apostle Paul for his climax. With his eye fixed upon the highest point, and with an upward gesture that seemed to be directed to the loftiest attitude of the heavenly places, he said:

"And where, my brethren, shall we seat the great Apostle of the Gentiles!—where, I say, shall we place the Apostle Paul?"

Then pausing, to give the imagination time to reach the elevation designed for the Apostle, he fixed his eyes upon our hero of the rifle. He, therefore, thinking the address personal, rose instantly and then replied:

"If he can't do better, he can take my seat."

It is needless to say that that climax was never reached.

THE DEMOCRACY OF CONNECTICUT SOUND ON THE GOOSE.—The Connecticut Democratic Convention adopted resolutions setting forth that Congress has violated the Constitution and has struck a fatal blow at the financial and commercial interests of the country in excluding the Southern States. It advises a National Convention to be held in New York on the 4th of March next, to discuss the great questions of the day and protest against the revolutionary acts of the majority of Congress, and announces to Conservative Union men the determination to resist by every constitutional power the disorganization and destruction of States. They thank the President for the repeated exercise of executive power on behalf of the Constitution, and pledge him a continuance of their support. James Brooks, of New York, delivered a speech an hour in length in which he charged Congress with endeavoring to remove the President and to change the complexion of the Supreme Court. He said the negro is not entitled to and could not be entrusted with the governing power. Similar addresses were made by Eaton and Seymour. They claimed that Congress has not a representation able enough to attempt impeachment. They charged that Congress is attempting to subvert the Government to secure to itself all national power.

WHEN BUTLER LEFT COLUMBUS, OHIO, he went to the depot unattended and in a plain carriage. The only token or recognition he received on his way to the depot was this: Just after he passed North street a man in great haste ran from the side-walk into the street, stopped the carriage and exclaimed, holding up a dirty spoon, "Here, General—here's something you dropped!"

WE HAVE ALL HEARD OF ASKING FOR BREAD and receiving a stone, but the young gentleman may be considered still worse treated when he asked for a young lady's hand and got her father's boot.

QUINCY, PLUMAS CO., CAL.
SATURDAY, JAN. 10, 1867.

FOR CONGRESS.—From latest accounts we are led to believe that no election for Congressmen will be held in this State until next fall. It was believed by many that a special election would be called, to take place sometime in February next; consequently the question as to who should be the next Congressman has been pretty freely canvassed by the press in this district. But since it has been decided that no special election will be held, it may seem somewhat premature to refer to the subject again at this time; nor should we do so did we not feel it our duty to reply to an article which appeared in the last issue of the Butte Record. In commenting upon our article of two weeks since, in which we mentioned the name of John R. Buckbee Esq., of this county, as a suitable person for Congressional honors, with the hope that the Radical party would nominate him for that position, the Record acknowledges the ability, influence and industry of that gentleman; but while giving him due credit for all these, touches the key note of the fight for Congress in this district as follows: "The Feather River route is practicable for a Railroad through the mountains into California, and we want a Representative who will secure the customary appropriation of land for and thus secure a serviceable road," and enquires, "How stands Mr. Buckbee upon this question?" We can only answer that question by turning to his record; and as we were associated with him for four years while he controlled the political department of the Quincy Union as its editor, we think we speak truly when we say that no man in this district has given more thought to the matter, or done more to bring the Feather River route into notice, than he has. In fact, as we have heard him frequently say, "the accomplishment of that object was the ambition of his life." The Record speaks truly when it says "the representative has a right to know what their representatives will do in this respect." Our claims hitherto have been slighted. Was a man known to favor the F. River route, his chances were slim in a State Convention. The interests of Sacramento and the "ladder route" would be damaged, if a known friend of this route should be sent to Congress. It is true Shannon was sent from this county, but Congress was "Tom's" law-giver on all questions of internal improvement. Bidwell was sent from Butte; but the policy of death seems to have overcome him on every thing connected with anything outside of Chico and his sheep ranch. But we have hopes that our next Representative will be the right man in the right place. And to make sure that such will be the case, it is our desire to see the candidates of each party be those who are not only favorable to but interested in the Feather River route. Buckbee is known to be, and we are almost as positive that not one of the other gentlemen named as candidates on the Radical side, have any interest in the success of that enterprise. Besides, Buckbee would, if elected, have a powerful ally in Senator Cole, who could do much to accomplish the desired result. Furthermore, we do not believe that the proposition advocated by the Record a short time since—to throw aside all party prejudices and nominate a candidate on a Railroad platform,—is a feasible one. It cannot be done, and it is useless to make the attempt. After this explanation, we ask the Record if it understands our position, and whether it considers its criticism as just? In regard to the Record's comments upon our choice for Congressmen, as stated in the Union two weeks since, we differ with it. The signs of the times indicate that a "Democrat or a Johnson man" will have as much weight and influence in the next Congress as a Radical, and it is a question whether or not the nominee of the Radicals can be elected in this district at the next election. Therefore we say, let the political fight go on, and let us bend our energies to the task of securing the nomination of the right men by each party. Buckbee and Raymond, say we. How does the Record like the proposition?

THE DRAMATIC CHRONICLE.—We acknowledge the receipt of an invitation to meet the proprietors and editors of the S. F. Dramatic Chronicle, on the 15th instant, at their new office on Montgomery street, on the commencement of the 5th volume of that paper. We regret that circumstances precluded our attendance, as it would have afforded us great pleasure to meet the gentlemen connected with the spirited little Chronicle. Please accept our thanks, gentlemen, for your polite invitation.

WHO THEY ARE.—The names of the five Judges of the Supreme Court, who are understood to have agreed to the opinions of the Court adverse to the constitutionality of certain acts of the Rump Congress, are Clifford, of Maine; Nelson, of New York; Grier, of Pennsylvania; Wayne, of Georgia; and Field, of California.

THE PLOT THICKENS.—The Supreme Court of the United States is the highest judicial tribunal known to our system of government. It is composed of nine Judges, men who have been selected by the President and Senate at different times within the last twenty years with a view to their legal qualifications for that high and responsible position. They hold their offices for life, or during good behavior. They are thus, by a wise provision of our Constitution, placed as far as possible beyond the reach of popular clamor, or undue influence. It is their sole province to pronounce upon the constitutionality of the acts of the Legislative branch of the Government.

This Court, in the exercise of its constitutional functions, has recently declared certain test oaths and military commissions, provided for by Congress, illegal and void. It is further conceded, that this high tribunal will declare the Southern States in the Union, and, as a consequence, entitled to all their rights as such under the Constitution. Are these decisions received by the Radicals as the final arbitrament of the leading vexed questions which now disturb our domestic peace and quiet? Not at all. The infernal pack of revolutionary schemers and political knaves, who assailed the terms of surrender given by Gen. Grant, who gloated over the removal of President Lincoln's conservatism "by an act of Providence," hoping that in his successor they would find one to do their bidding, and who have ever since followed President Johnson with the malignity of disappointed wolves, now turn in their blind fury and threaten the Supreme Court with impeachment and with reorganization. Men of California, these are terrible facts. You who are interested in the peace, happiness and prosperity of our common country—those whose lives and property and everything you hold dear on earth are regulated and protected by law and order, should weigh them with candor. The fell spirit of Radical hate and intolerance has been encouraged, until now, at the head of the republic, they tender to us a submission to their lawless and unlimited will on the one hand, or anarchy and ruin on the other. The time for argument has passed. Prompt, energetic and determined action is demanded. Let the note of preparation for the coming conflict be sounded throughout the length and breadth of our land.

The acts and powers of Congress as defined and declared valid by the Supreme Court are alone binding upon any citizen. The rights and immunities of the States under the Constitution, as recognized by this Court, must be maintained, and the President must and will enforce them. The Assassins of Liberty congregated in Congress, knowing that the Executive and Judicial departments of the Government working in harmony cannot be overcome, flung anew the impeachment of the President. Articles of impeachment have already been presented and referred; and although an almost universal protest is going up from the people, there is no telling what these vile conspirators against the peace of the republic may attempt.

The President, backed by the Supreme Court in defence of the Constitution, law and order, has a power at his command which, if but called into exercise, will soon make these vile traitors in Congress hide from the gaze of the American people. Now is the crisis of our fate. Let every lover of our country and of liberty but do his duty in this trying hour, by strengthening the hands of those in authority who are endeavoring to steer the ship of state through the howling tempest of fanaticism, and ere long Radical despotism will meet the fate of secession, and the Constitution and laws be triumphant over all their enemies.

"BARKIS IS WILLING."—Gen. John Bidwell, in a recent letter to a gentleman, a resident of one of the cow counties, says: "As regards my name having been mentioned in connection with the gubernatorial contest, all I have to say is that I would feel a pride beyond what I am able to express in mere words, to be selected by the suffrages of a free people to preside over the affairs of our new and promising State as its Chief Magistrate."

If it is the desire of my friends, and they find me available, and nothing in the future intervenes, I am willing to repose my claim entirely in their hands, and to accept the nomination from the loyal Union party and none other; provided I can do so without entering into combinations which, if elected, would prostitute the patronage of the State, and destroy my own self-respect and independence. If I am elected, I want to be Governor, and not something else."

Gorham, Low, Parks & Co., who are on the inside of the "ring" in this State, will be very apt to "intervene," and never allow the General to "feel the pride" which the nomination of Governor would give him. Bidwell's "claims" will be very apt to "repose" in the hands of his friends for an indefinite length of time. He is a played out institution, and the sooner he realizes the fact, the better it will be for him.

MR. EDITOR:—How do you feel now in your mountain regions, as the wind blows bleak and cold and the snow spreads its mantle around, and you watch and wait for the coming of a paper from the lower country, and finally, as a last resort, plunge into some old scrap book for items, or better yet, get up a Pictorial, that the Union may make its weekly appearance? But bleak winds and cold winds are fine; you like them, and every little while brag of healthy country and all that. And the snow, too—you find beauty in that, as like the whitest, the softest and purest of things imaginable, it falls so silently over all. True, a snowy day, as you sit by your window and muse away the hours, may seem long; but if you have plenty of fuel and a warm house, you may, like "like Marvel," reverie out some very pretty things. But then, when Ike did his "reverses" before the fire, in his country home, he was a "bachelor,"—a state and condition well suited to dreams and such like. You, probably, unlike Ike, have but little time for reverie, but must be up betimes in the morning to build fires, and then to break a trail to the wood-pile, to your office, to Kaulback's for groceries, to Edwards' for beef, perhaps to Houck's, that you may get them forty drops which my old friend Dr. Vaughan would suggest as good for snow blindness, and then you must break a path to some near neighbor's, and perhaps help the little Kelloggson with their boots, not well greased the night before, and then, perhaps, break the trail for them to school. With all this you are busy, and with but little time for reverie. You may study the clouds and hope for fair weather, and look for an early spring—discussing, now and then, the probabilities of a liberal supply of water for the miners when the warm weather approaches. We don't go snow here, but we do get some rain, and this season the supply has beaten the oldest inhabitant. We had a little rain last night, a good supply to-day; but this afternoon it has cleared off, and the signs of promise for fair weather are good.

There is but little of interest here now,—nothing to excite—nothing to alarm, unless fears that the next steamer from Nicaragua may bring a supply of Cholera. The only novelty we have is a company of Japanese performers en route for Paris. They show forth at the Academy of Music, and do surprising feats. They draw immensely. Magazine advertisers that he has been engaged for a limited number of nights, at one thousand dollars per night. This figure must leave a very small margin for profits.

There are but few Plumasites here now. Judge Evey, and Johnny Ritchie and one of the Aschlims are all that I know of at present. They seem to like the place, and think it only wants to be a little nearer the County Seat of Plumas to be, in time, a point of importance. I agree with them. Late news here is, that Thad Stevens, not satisfied with reconstructing Andy, wants to reconstruct the Supreme Court. Well, let him attempt it; perhaps he will find himself and followers reconstructed or destroyed before he accomplishes his purpose. Politics are but little talked of here—the people hardly seeming to know or care to what party, or wing of a party, or wing of a wing of a party, they properly belong. The Al mighty Dollar alone attracts their attention. There have been a number of failures here, particularly among the lumber men; but, spite of all this, we are growing, building, pulling down and building greater, but the end is not yet. Rents are high, provisions higher, and labor cheap; the rich get richer, and the poor grow poorer, of which latter class we have a large number in our midst.

But I cannot tell you anything new or startling to interest your readers. I might, perhaps, go over past years in Plumas, revive old memories, and tell, after all, that these revived matters but prove that we are growing old; but this your lady readers, some of whom perhaps will don their "spices" to read this, would not like; and it might, perhaps, even be unpleasant to a few old codgers about you, who regularly send to San Francisco and Marysville for their supply of "hair-dye," that they may appear as youthful and blooming as of old.

U.S.O.
A SPLENDID PRIZE FOR THE LADIES.—The ladies and young folks of our town can find a more charming prize anywhere than by sending for the Home Amusement one year. This beautiful Magazine, of twenty-four pages, seventy-two columns, is published Semi-Monthly, at only $1.25 per annum. Besides, every lady sending a club of ten subscribers, receives an extra copy free, and a splendid Hoop Skirt, worth $3 as a prize. A person sending a club of forty-eight, with $60 subscription money, receives one of Wheeler & Wilson's best $65 Sewing Machines as a prize, with an extra copy of the magazine. No young lady could earn a sewing machine easier. Send for copies and raise your clubs. Address, Ho. e Amusement, No. 78, Nassau Street, New York.

NOVEL IDEA.—A Washington correspondent says Rogers, of Alameda, is trying to get up what he calls a Geographical Park, in Washington, Congress to furnish the money. His idea is to make it a map of the United States on a large scale; to build up hills to represent mountains; introduce streamlets for rivers, ponds for lakes, etc. Children will stumble over the Rocky mountains, and wade in the Mississippi. A novel idea, if nothing more.

THE REAL TROUBLE.—The New York Freeman's Journal says: "It is many years ago that we began to insist, in these columns, that our fundamental trouble was not in the slavery question of surface politics. The trouble is, that our institutions were framed to suit an intelligent and a virtuous people; and that they have fallen into the keeping of a people shallow in their ideas, and corrupt in their politics."

The trouble is, that our institutions were framed to suit an intelligent and a virtuous people; and that they have fallen into the keeping of a people shallow in their ideas, and corrupt in their politics."

THE FEELING.—The more Conservative of the Radicals begin to look with apprehension upon the revolutionary designs of the Rump. Speaking of the belligerent attitude of Congress, so called, towards the Supreme Court, the Stockton Independent, one of the ablest Radical papers in the State, says: "We have only to add, to day, that if there has been any and imperfect legislation on the part of Congress, and that fact is established by the decree of the Supreme Court, the consequences cannot be averted by the clamors of an unthinking press; and God forbid that the remedy should be sought by a legislative effort to invalidate the decree of the only tribunal which can legally pass upon the merits of the case. Let the experiment be tried, and we may look to see 'anarchy come down like night upon the land.'"

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican is not pleased with the torch and turpentine programme of the Radicals, nor the "Head Center" of the fiery pack, Brownlow. It says: "The present state of feeling in Tennessee shows the bad influence of the crude schemes and violent temper of such men as Brownlow. There is no one of the States excluded from representation in Congress in which so large a proportion of the people are dissatisfied with the Government as in Tennessee. And affairs there grow worse and worse, as by each new exhibition of passion and despotic power on the part of the minority in power, the majority are outraged. To establish a like rule throughout the South, is to inaugurate despotism and misrule under the form of republicanism."

Horace Greeley, also, of the New York Tribune, seems to have become aware of the dangers to be apprehended from the revolutionary Rumpers. He says: "The programme of boundless subjugation, implacable hostility and iron armed despotism, is to us most revolting. Should it be insisted on, the wise and moderate of all parties must and will unite to defeat it. What a marked contrast is exhibited between the ideas and language of such papers as these, conducted by intelligent and thinking men, and the incoherent ravings of some 'lesser lights' of Radicalism, whose fanaticism or rascality has usurped the places of reason and common sense, and whose weekly and daily cry is—'Impeach the President!' 'Impeach the Judges of the Supreme Court!' 'Reduce the Southern States to the condition of territories!' &c. But daylight is dawning, even now when Radicalism is seemingly triumphant, and the feeble but baleful light of these political will of the wisps will be lost in the glorious effulgence of returning reason. Let them shine on, while they may,—shine and stink, and stink and shine, like rotten muck-yea, is even at our doors, when their present teachings will become a stench in the nostrils of the people, and they themselves will lustily deny that they ever uttered them."

THE FEELING.—The more Conservative of the Radicals begin to look with apprehension upon the revolutionary designs of the Rump. Speaking of the belligerent attitude of Congress, so called, towards the Supreme Court, the Stockton Independent, one of the ablest Radical papers in the State, says: "We have only to add, to day, that if there has been any and imperfect legislation on the part of Congress, and that fact is established by the decree of the Supreme Court, the consequences cannot be averted by the clamors of an unthinking press; and God forbid that the remedy should be sought by a legislative effort to invalidate the decree of the only tribunal which can legally pass upon the merits of the case. Let the experiment be tried, and we may look to see 'anarchy come down like night upon the land.'"

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican is not pleased with the torch and turpentine programme of the Radicals, nor the "Head Center" of the fiery pack, Brownlow. It says: "The present state of feeling in Tennessee shows the bad influence of the crude schemes and violent temper of such men as Brownlow. There is no one of the States excluded from representation in Congress in which so large a proportion of the people are dissatisfied with the Government as in Tennessee. And affairs there grow worse and worse, as by each new exhibition of passion and despotic power on the part of the minority in power, the majority are outraged. To establish a like rule throughout the South, is to inaugurate despotism and misrule under the form of republicanism."

Horace Greeley, also, of the New York Tribune, seems to have become aware of the dangers to be apprehended from the revolutionary Rumpers. He says: "The programme of boundless subjugation, implacable hostility and iron armed despotism, is to us most revolting. Should it be insisted on, the wise and moderate of all parties must and will unite to defeat it. What a marked contrast is exhibited between the ideas and language of such papers as these, conducted by intelligent and thinking men, and the incoherent ravings of some 'lesser lights' of Radicalism, whose fanaticism or rascality has usurped the places of reason and common sense, and whose weekly and daily cry is—'Impeach the President!' 'Impeach the Judges of the Supreme Court!' 'Reduce the Southern States to the condition of territories!' &c. But daylight is dawning, even now when Radicalism is seemingly triumphant, and the feeble but baleful light of these political will of the wisps will be lost in the glorious effulgence of returning reason. Let them shine on, while they may,—shine and stink, and stink and shine, like rotten muck-yea, is even at our doors, when their present teachings will become a stench in the nostrils of the people, and they themselves will lustily deny that they ever uttered them."

LOCAL ITEMS.

WILL COMMENCE.—The Crescent Co. will commence crushing quartz again in their mill on Monday next. Owing to the mine having been filled with water, the mill has been idle for the past three weeks.

Snow.—From a gentleman who came in from Washoe a few days since, we learn that the snow on the summit at Beckweth's Pass, has not been more than two feet deep at an time this winter. What do the Dutch Flat Railroaders think of that?

SLIGHING.—On Sunday and Monday last, the sleighing in American Valley was superb. Everything that bore any resemblance to a sleigh was brought out and made to do duty. Our citizens took advantage of the occasion, and enjoyed themselves as long as the snow lasted.

CONLEY vs. PAUCE.—Not having received the Sac. Union of Tuesday last, we are unable to state what action was taken by the Supreme Court in the case of Conley vs. the County Treasurer. The case was set for hearing on Monday last.

MIXING.—The storms, snow and rain, together with the cold weather, has put a pretty effectual stop to outside mining for the present. The owners of tunnel claims in different portions of the county are at work taking out pay-dirt, but they will have to wait for water before they can wash up.

GOOD PROSPECTS.—We learn that the owners of the Clermont Hill claims are still driving ahead with their main tunnel, and are pleased to hear that the gravel improves as they advance. In it, the boys are deserving of success, and if they keep on at work are bound to strike it before many months pass.

ACCIDENT.—On Thursday last, Mr. James McLowell was severely injured while at work in his mining claim on Washington Hill. He was hoisting dirt from the mine, when the whim which he was using slipped and struck him with great force in the face, breaking his nose and otherwise injuring him. Dr. Cate was sent for, and dressed the wound. It is not considered dangerous.

APPEAL.—A trial of the rights of property was held at Taylorville last week. The Sheriff had attached a lot of calves in the suit of Aschheim vs. Payne, which were claimed by Cunningham & Holthouse. The trial lasted for three days, and was from all accounts a notable affair. After hearing the evidence in the case, the jury found a verdict for Cunningham & Co. We learn that the case will be appealed. Cooper appeared as attorney for Aschheim, and Cooper for Cunningham & Holthouse.

SINGULAR.—A few days since, a lady in this town found in the middle of a hen's egg which she had occasion to use in preparing some article of food, a common-sized needle. After she had broken the shell of the egg, she discovered the needle and drew it out. The shell was not punctured, therefore the needle must have been swallowed by the hen, and lodged in the egg before the shell was formed. Mr. Duster is our authority for the above, and he gives us his word for it that it is a positive fact.

DESERVED REBuke.—The Butte Record gives the citizens of Quincy the following notice, the truth of which no one will pretend to deny:

"A Public School is soon to be opened in the town of Quincy, Plumas County. That town supports two weekly papers, and it has been with-out a school heretofore, it ought to have been washed away, and a narrow passed over its site when the floods retired. They should have schools, if they would receive the blessings instead of the curses of the rising generation. We should suppose less politics and more attention to the wants of the rising generation, would prove interesting. The beautiful American Valley, with its glorious and beautiful climate, should host an institute of learning that would attract students from every portion of the Pacific coast."

WAGON ROAD APPROPRIATION.—As will be seen from an article published on the first page of this paper, Gen. Bidwell proposes to introduce a bill into Congress in aid of a wagon road up Feather. If the Gen. succeeds in getting the bill passed at this late day, we shall be agreeably disappointed, but we fear it is a strategic movement, made for the purpose of gaining a little popularity. If, however, the bill should escape from a lingering death, in the hands of the Committee, and should become a law, and when received was found to have no informalities or technicalities that would prevent its being carried into effect, we will acknowledge that for once, Gen. Bidwell lost sight of Chien, and did something for the benefit of Plumas County and her citizens.

THE SHERIFF CASE.—We learn that the remittor in the Sheriff Election case has been issued by the Clerk of the Supreme Court. It was forwarded by express, but was delivered to Mr. Clark (who was on his way to Sacramento), before it reached Quincy. When Mr. C. returns, we presume that he will at once take possession of the office. The Supervisors, at their last meeting, through some hocus pocus arrangement, formed themselves into a Board of Canvassers, and ordered a certificate of election to be issued as soon as the remittor arrived; therefore, there will be no difficulty in the way of Mr. Yates entering the office when called upon to do so. As Mr. Clark has never qualified, or demanded the office, we do not see how he can recover the fees paid to, or due Mr. Yates, while he was acting as Sheriff. Still, certain legal geists say he can recover them, and as we are no lawyer, it is useless for us to undertake to dispute their assertions.

SUPERVISOR ELECTION.—The County Clerk informs us that an election for Supervisor of the 24 District will be ordered before the time set by law for the meeting of the Board in May. As no election could now be held prior to the February meeting, he thinks, and justly too, that it would be better to put off the election for a month or two, as the present state of the roads, &c., would doubtless prevent a full vote being polled, and as no benefit could be derived by holding an election sooner than the 1st of April, no one would be injured by the postponement. In this connection, we will state that we are credibly informed that it was Mr. Overton's intention to have an election ordered to take place on the 6th of September last, the time set by law for the Supervisors to be elected. Mr. O. was absent from Quincy at the time, but left instructions to have an election ordered. Through some oversight, it was not done; hence, there is a vacancy in the office of Supervisor of this District.

FEARFUL STATISTICS.—We find, by looking over some reliable statistics in our possession, that there is in the city of New York alone, over 8,000 fallen and outcast females who are forced to hide away from the sunlight of day, only coming out at night, like some foul beast of prey, and then to sin or starve. We find that these abandoned outcasts are mostly very young, commencing their downward career of vice from the age of eleven years; that the ordinary range of life in this career of crime, seldom exceeds four years, before a merciful God calls them hence, leaving others to fill their places in this great babel of contamination.

The arguments predicated upon these statistics, are as old as Christian civilization, and lose none of their truth or importance from age. Every well-wisher of society should endorse and endeavor to enforce them. But our main purpose now is to inquire how such an article, based upon such statistics, found a place in the editorial columns of the National. Everyone who has observed the course of that paper, and is familiar with the instincts of the God and Morality party, knows that an evil of any kind to attract their attention and receive their condemnation must be located at a respectful distance from their own doors.

It should by all means be located South of "Mason & Dixon's Line," and an indispensable prerequisite is, that the evil should affect directly the social, moral and political greatness of niggerdom. Let the evil not be presented with these attractive features, and those of the National's ilk are ready to take the money from every one else's pocket, and spend every one else's time and labor to eradicate it. Had the above extract been so manipulated as to have read, "there is in the city of Charleston, South Carolina, over 8,000 fallen and outcast colored females, who are forced," &c., our life for it, numbers of the radical pack who have laid the article aside without a thought, would have picked up their cars, rolled it under their tongues as a sweet morsel, and carefully filed it away as a campaign document for the coming election. The truth is, the responsible editor was from home, and some one, who had read the recent address of Miss Emma Harding in New York, copied a portion of it almost word for word, and palmed it off on the National for original, innocently thinking, no doubt, that in the absence of the editor's ponderous arguments in favor of Negro Suffrage, the patrons of the National might be satisfied with a small bait in favor of woman's rights. Our contemporary will do well to keep a close watch over his columns. See that the National sticks close to its original text, "that the great panacea for all our ills is to place the ballot in the hands of the Chinaman, Negro, and Digger." Allow no such issue, not even woman's rights to be sprung upon him; otherwise, he will soon have a burst-up on his hands equal to that which Sut Lovingsaw saw in his dream, when the body of Spoon-Teef Butler struck the battlements of hell. Watch out, Mr. Manager, &c.

THE CHIMNEY CORNER.—With number 71 of Frank Leslie's Chimney Corner, is given to each subscriber and purchaser, an elegant gift plate, twenty-four inches by twenty-eight inches: Home Again! from the magnificent painting by J. Noel Paton. "Omi," a continued story, by one of the most popular authors of the day, will also be commenced in that number. This will be a most excellent moment for such as have not yet done so, to subscribe for the "Chimney Corner." Any one sending a year's subscription will receive, at option, either a copy of Frank Leslie's Illustrated Almanac for 1867, or the first number sent. One copy, six months, $2.00. One copy, one year, $4.00. Six copies, one year, $20.00. Subscriptions should be sent to the Publisher, Frank Leslie, 537 Pearl st., N. Y.

KNOWS HIM.—The editor of the Red Bluff Independent does not seem to have a very favorable opinion of Bill Parks, the gentleman from Sutter, who would like to represent the 31 District in Congress. The Independent says:

"The Chairman of the Committee wants some of the Congressional 'chicken pie,' and we don't want to see him get a mouthful of it. Parks is very foxy. He was a terrible zealous friend of Sargent before the last Legislature met, and went over to the other side for the promise of a mess of Congressional pottage. We cannot support him for Congress while Leonidas E. Pratt or Chancellor Hartson are alive and in the enjoyment of their senses. If he gets the nomination on the Union ticket, we shall vote for him under protest."

"The Times publishers look more to quantity than to quality, and in order to get the high pressure of gas from the amateur editorial corps, an enlargement becomes necessary occasionally. The columns of the Bulletin and Alta have been ruthlessly attacked to furnish material, and the material appropriated without a word of credit. If the Times readers prefer 'wash,' it is no business of ours. They 'pay their money and can take their choice.'"

GOOD TEMPLARS.—For the information of the Temperance Banner, published in San Francisco, and which seems to be laboring under the idea that the cause of temperance in this section is going backward from the fact that the Quincy Division, No. 113 of the Sons of Temperance, which was formerly located at this place, has ceased to exist, we will state that there is a Lodge of Good Templars located in Quincy, which numbers nearly one hundred members.

SUBMERGED.—The Express of the 8th says: "On L street, (Sacramento,) above the City Hospital, there is a sheet of water that extends nearly the length of a square." This is in the vicinity of the Capitol building.

There is a land of pure delight,
Where saints immortal dwell,
A land for both the black and white—
But Brownlow's bound for well.

VERY FINE.—In Harper's Weekly of the 15th ult. is published an engraving representing a view of the interior of the dome of the Capitol at Washington. From the engraving, we should judge that the painting was executed by a master artist; yet we could not help thinking that the inside circle might have been intended to represent the ball scene of the "Black Crook" now being played at Niblo's, and which the ministers and other disciples of pharisaical morality are so terribly indignant over. If the drapery in which the "forms" represented in the engraving are clad were a little shorter, we should be almost certain that it was intended to represent some such scene.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS.

A PURE AND POWERFUL TONIC,
Corrective and Alternative,

—OF—
WONDERFUL EFFICACY IN DISEASES

—OF THE—
Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fever, Cramps, Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bilious Weakness, whether inherent in the system, Or produced by Special Causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no force exerted; but it is a combination of the extracts of balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produces effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In case of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Deceptive arising from Old Age, it exercises an electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to reinforce and re-establish them.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in case of DYSPEPSIA, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion, coming as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive secretory organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Loss of spirits and Fits of Langor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agency of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the Stimulant, and occasional resort to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

Last, though not least, it is the ONLY SAFE STIMULANT, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements, present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere, and by

FLORENCE

Sewing Machines.

THE BEST IN THE WORLD!!

Highest Premium, Fair American Institute.

Highest Premium, State Fair of California, 1866.

It makes four different stitches, the lock, knot, double lock, and double knot, on one and the same machine. Each stitch being alike on both sides of the fabric.

Every Machine has the reversible feed motion, which enables the operator, by simply turning a thumb-screw, to have the work run either to the right or left, to stay any part of the seam, or fasten the ends of seams without turning the fabric.

Changing the length of stitch, to another, can readily be done while the Machine is in motion.

The needle is easily adjusted.

Its motions are all positive; there are no springs to get out of order, and its simplicity enables the most inexperienced to operate it.

It does not require finer thread on the under than on the upper side, and will sew across the heaviest seams, or from one to more thicknesses of cloth, without change of needle, tension, or breaking thread.

The only machine having a self-adjusting shuttle tension—the amount of tension always being in exact proportion to the size of the bobbin.

The hemmer is easily adjusted, and will turn any width of hem desired.

It is almost noiseless, and can be used where quiet is necessary.

No OTHER MACHINE will do so great a range of work as the Florence.

DR. CHARLES H. TOZER'S

PRIVATE MEDICAL INSTITUTE.

North-east Corner Kearney and Jackson Streets, San Francisco.

The Great Evacuator of Special Complaints, Formerly of Locke Hospital, London, Eight Years in Sacramento and The Last Four in San Francisco.

DR. TOZER'S experience is of forty years standing, and during that time he has met with unparalleled success in the treatment of all those diseases generally known as Venereal or Chiro.

It is impossible here to mention all the diseases with which he is familiar, some, perhaps, will not be out of place. The most fatal, the most destructive to mankind is Syphilis. The brain being the seat of the disease, the whole system suffers, in consequence I will enumerate some of the symptoms, so that the afflicted may be able to form an opinion in regard to their condition, and seek advice in time, thereby saving them a world of suffering. Nervous Debility, Loss of Memory, Pain in the Limbs, Headache, Stiffness of the Neck, Trembling of the Limbs, Headache, and an aversion to General exertion, especially that of Females. There are a great many more, but these are sufficient, and should you be suffering from any of them, call on DR. TOZER, and he will cure you in a short time, without any interruption to your business—state your case by letter, and there will be no occasion for your calling at the office.

STRUCTURE OF THE UTERUS is another formidable enemy to health. It is one of my specialties, and I will inform you of its terrible results. The worst case cured in a few days.

VENEREAL DISEASES, in all their various forms, either Primary, Secondary, or Tertiary, completely eradicated from the system, and the patient restored to perfect health, there will be no danger of handing down to your children that terrible disease known as Syphilis.

THE GREAT EVACUATOR OF SPECIAL COMPLAINTS, Formerly of Locke Hospital, London, Eight Years in Sacramento and The Last Four in San Francisco.

My Plan is PERFECTLY PAINLESS—destroying the disease and purifying the blood, so that in common gratitude, I can claim that in all cases, and under treatment, we fulfill our promise.

VENEREAL DISEASES, in all their various forms, either Primary, Secondary, or Tertiary, completely eradicated from the system, and the patient restored to perfect health, there will be no danger of handing down to your children that terrible disease known as Syphilis.

THE GREAT EVACUATOR OF SPECIAL COMPLAINTS, Formerly of Locke Hospital, London, Eight Years in Sacramento and The Last Four in San Francisco.

My Plan is PERFECTLY PAINLESS—destroying the disease and purifying the blood, so that in common gratitude, I can claim that in all cases, and under treatment, we fulfill our promise.

DR. TOZER'S experience is of forty years standing, and during that time he has met with unparalleled success in the treatment of all those diseases generally known as Venereal or Chiro.

It is impossible here to mention all the diseases with which he is familiar, some, perhaps, will not be out of place. The most fatal, the most destructive to mankind is Syphilis. The brain being the seat of the disease, the whole system suffers, in consequence I will enumerate some of the symptoms, so that the afflicted may be able to form an opinion in regard to their condition, and seek advice in time, thereby saving them a world of suffering.

STRUCTURE OF THE UTERUS is another formidable enemy to health. It is one of my specialties, and I will inform you of its terrible results. The worst case cured in a few days.
